Rising Star in Motorsport meets Lord Mayor of Birmingham and represents his home City in the National Formula Jedi Championship.

Russell Small aged 20 from Birmingham meet with the Lord Mayor and director of Birmingham sport on 29th February. Russell had a successful meeting with the Lord Mayor as he strives to emulate the success of fellow brummie Nigel Mansell, and hopes to get the same level of support to further his Motorsport career.

Russell has been racing since the age of 13, following his hero Nigel Mansell in karting winning multiple races and championships. Russell moved on to single seater car racing at the age of 16 with an array of podiums and wins, racing Against and often beating talented young drivers like Alex Brundell .

This year Russell was approached by Formula Jedi (single seater racing cars) to race in the works team,he will be racing at the top circuits in the U.K such as Silverstone ,Brands Hatch Donnington and also Spa..

To help fund his racing Russell is working as a race instructor teaching his skills in a various array of cars such as Caterhams, Porches and Jaguars.

However motorsport is very expensive most the budget comes from sponsorship mainly from companies around the Birmingham area, this is why it is important for Russell to have as much support as possible. His meeting with the Lord Mayor has helped to boost his profile which will contribute in finding support from Birmingham companies and Russell will be very proud to fly the flag for his home city Birmingham. The Lord Mayor also requested for Russell to be a guest speaker and to attend the Lord Mayors Spectacular at Cannon Hill park this year.

At the moment juggling around his job and racing Russell is also studying full time motorsport at Oxford Brookes University. If you would like to find out more information about Russell please visit his new website www.rasmall.net
